EXAMINER'S STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding independent claims 8, 14, and 16, Applicant's argument that each of the independent claims requires all of the elements and method steps to reside within and be performed by a remote control device is persuasive. Groner does not disclose all of the elements and method steps reside within and are performed by telephone device 32 or text display device 44. Nor would one having ordinary skill in the art find it obvious to combine Groner, White et al., and Lemaire et al. to arrive at all of the elements and method steps of independent claims 8, 14, and 16.

Regarding independent claim 3, Applicant's argument that the combination of Groner and Lemaire et al. does not suggest all of the limitations of speaking aloud the sender, date, subject, e-mail content, and attachment is persuasive. The combination of Groner and Lemaire et al. does not expressly disclose all of these elements.

Regarding independent claim 5, Applicant's argument that the combination of Groner and Atkas et al. does not suggest the limitations of speaking aloud the summary of an e-mail folder is persuasive. The combination of Groner and Atkas et al. does not expressly disclose reciting a summary of a folder, and one having ordinary skill in the art would not find it obvious to combine Groner, White et al., and Atkas et al. to arrive at the feature.

Regarding independent claim 7, Applicant's argument that the combination of Groner and Atkas et al. does not suggest providing an audio announcement whenever new messages are received is persuasive. Atkas et al. may recite a list of messages when a user accesses his mailbox, but does not provide for an audio announcement of messages whenever new messages are received.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
